

ABANDON LARGE CARGO OF BOOZE

Two "Runners" Escape East of Morristown After Machine Goes
in Ditch Due to Accident

POLICE SEARCH FOR THEM

Fred Cox of Morristown, Whose
Ford Was Practically Demolished
Escapes Without Injuries

A cargo of booze estimated to be worth $4,000 was abandoned by two men in a large automobile, on the road west of Rushville, and east of Morristown, Monday night about 8:30 o'clock, and local officers watched throughout the night for the men who escaped.

The machine was a Marmon, seven-passenger touring car, bearing an Ohio license, and was headed toward this city, and in attempting to pass a Ford sedan, going in the same direction, they sideswiped each other, and both cars went into the ditch, practically demolishing the Ford.

The Ford was driven by Fred Cox of Morristown, who was alone. He was unhurt and crawled out from underneath of the machine.

The booze runners car went into the ditch and was not damaged, but the two men in charge of it, made a quick escape, leaving their cargo behind.

The machine contained ten 10 gallon kegs of Canadian liquor valued at $40 a gallon, or $4,000 for the 100 gallons. The kegs were stacked in the rear seat. A .45 calibre revolver was also found in the driver's seat, and the numbers on the weapon were rubbed off, so that the factory cannot tell where it was distributed to a dealer.

Officers in all counties around Morristown were notified to watch for the men, and Patrolman Lakin of this city went to the scene of the accident in hopes of meeting the men, and officers watched the railroad yards during the night.

Sheriff Smith of Shelbyville took charge of the liquor and the machine was driven to Shelbyville on its own power and was not damaged. It is believed that the booze runners thought the machine was broken, or else they would have continued their trip.

MRS. NANCY COLSHER DIES

Orange Township Woman Expires
At Home Of Her Son This Morning

Mrs. Nancy Colsher, age eighty-one years died at the home of her son, Noah Colsher, in Orange township, this morning about 8:30 o'clock of a complication of diseases following a prolonged illness. Mrs. Colsher had been an invalid for seven years and had been unable to leave her home during that time.

The deceased was the daughter of Daniel and Mary Camerer, pioneer residents of Orange and Anderson townships, and was the last of a large family. Besides the one son no other close relatives survive, aside from a few nieces and nephews.

The funeral services have not been completed.

NO EXCUSE FOR INCREASE

Opinion of President Coolidge Regarding Hard Coal Prices

Washington, Sept. 18.—There is no excuse for increased coal prices as the result of the brief shutdown in anthracite fields, President Coolidge holds, an administration spokesman said today.

The president feels the effect of the shutdown should be evenly spread over the entire nation's output and that no increase is justified. The federal trade commission today notified Mr. Coolidge that under his instructions it would at once begin an investigation of coal prices and make public its findings and recommendations.

CALL TO STATE BANKS

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—E. H. Wolcott, state banking commissioner, today issued a call on state banks for a report on their condition at the close of business Sept. 14.

TEMPORARY RELIEF SOUGHT

Cabinet Discusses Agricultural Problems at Today's Meeting

Washington, Sept. 18.—Temporary relief measures for wheat producers will be worked out by President Coolidge and his cabinet in an effort to put that branch of agriculture on a sound economic basis, administration leaders announced at the White House today.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who conferred with President Coolidge before today's cabinet meeting, is to report Thursday or Friday details of the proposed emergency measures.

The cabinet today devoted its entire session to discussion of agriculture problems.

CUTS TO OFFSET PROPOSED RAISE

Reductions in Local Tax Levies Will Probably Keep 1924 Rates From Being Higher

DESPITE INCREASE IN STATE

Proposal That State Tax Board Increase Levy From 27 To 33 Cents Considered

Even though the state board of tax commissioners should fix the 1924 state tax rate at 33 cents, which represents an increase of six cents over this year, it is estimated that not many taxing units in Rush county would have a much larger rate for next year than they have this year.

The county tax rate was reduced for next year from sixteen to eleven cents and the county gravel road repair tax was cut from twelve to ten cents, making a combined reduction of seven cents, which would more than offset an increase of six cents in the state tax rate.

Therefore, it is pointed out, if Rush county taxpayers are compelled to pay any more taxes next year, it will be due to increases by their own local taxing officers, such as the township advisory board and the school corporations.

If the state rate is put at 33 cents for next year, the Rushville city rate will doubtless be higher because the city council raised the city levy for next year from 70 to 80 cents. Part of this increase will be taken care of by a reduction of six cents in the gravel road bonds and interest levy in Rushville township.

Advices from Indianapolis are to the effect that an increase in the state rate, which is now 27 cents, is almost certain. The amount of the increase will depend upon the attitude of members of the state tax board, Governor McCray and State Auditor Bracken, who have to work out the problem of fixing a levy which will meet the financial requirements of the state.

Faced with the necessity of establishing tax rates which will total approximately 56 cents for the next two years, the question appears to be whether the amount will be decided between this year and next, or a marked increase made now to be followed by a sharp decrease next year.

If a 33-cent levy is established now, the rate next year will be lowered to from 22 to 23 cents, officials say. If only a nominal increase is made, the levy next year will be about the same. Governor McCray, it is said, does not favor a radical increase in the levy this year. State Auditor Bracken, a democratic official, however, is said to be insisting on a substantial increase in the levy. Mr. Bracken takes the position that the large increase must be made to take care of loans negotiated for the general fund. He believes that these loans must all be paid off during the next taxing period.

In support of this attitude, it is said that the state finance board can not make loans of this kind for more than six months.

Mr. Bracken, who, as auditor, has authority to pass on the levy fixed by the tax board, is expected to give careful scrutiny to the rate fixed before giving his approval to the matter.

In his connection the question of use of money from the general fund for maintenance of correctional institutions.

MRS. GLEN EDWARDS IS HURT

Wife of Former Rushville Man Injured in Greenfield Accident

Mrs. Glen Edwards of Greenfield was injured and the automobile in which she was riding was almost demolished when it was struck by a Pennsylvania train at a street crossing in that city Monday afternoon. Mrs. Ed Hayes, who was driving the car, and Mrs. Riley Arbuckle, who was riding in the back seat, were not injured.

The train that struck the machine was backing slowly, or all three occupants would have been killed. Mrs. Edwards got out of the machine and was dragged along and suffered cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken. She is well known here, having visited in Rushville, and Mr. Edwards was formerly a resident here and was employed by the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber company.

FIRST STEP TAKEN IN DOLLINGS PROBE

Marion County Prosecutor to Meet
Gov. McCray And Attorney General
Lesh This Afternoon

JUST STARTER, SAYS M'CRAV

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—First steps toward a criminal investigation of the affairs of the R. L. Dollings company and its subsidiaries in Indiana, were scheduled for this afternoon when William P. Evans, Marion county prosecutor was to meet with Governor McCray and Attorney General Lesh.

Several days ago Lesh made a detailed report to the governor recommending a grand jury probe of the entire Dollings company with criminal prosecution as the object.

"I do not know what I will recommend," the governor said before the conference. "I just want to talk the situation over. I am calling Lesh and Evans in just as a starter."

Lesh in a report to the governor charged that the Dollings officials could not help but know that the entire system of financing was unsound and that the longer it was permitted to develop the greater would be the crash.

Organization Working Any Way Except Under Law is Unamerican—
Speaks to High School

"This is not the America of the self-appointed few, but the America of the true and the loyal to the constitutions," said Thomas Davison, of Greensburg, former president of the Indiana State Bar association, speaking at the Rotary club meeting today noon, in observance of Constitution Week.

Mr. Davison also addressed the high school shortly before noon on the same subject and held the attention of the students for thirty minutes.

The Greensburg attorney was invited to speak to the high school by Douglas Morris, who is chairman of the Rush county committee that arranged for the observance of the week, under the auspices of the American Bar association.

Mr. Davison asserted, in his address before the Rotary club, that however interesting it may be to speak of the historical phases of the constitution, the most important thing is to bring to the knowledge of Americans the relation that the constitution bears to our lives, our business and our general welfare."

Gets 47 Days in Jail For Charging "Frame-up"

It don't pay to express your private opinion in open court, and assert that the prosecutor and court have "framed" the case on you, as evidenced this morning when Justice Stech gave William Innis, Jr., of Milroy, the limit and sent him to jail for 47 days to lay out the fine and costs.

Innis was being tried on a malicious trespass case and was accused of destroying a sign on a bill board. Just as Justice Stech was getting ready to let him off with an easy fine, the defendant was asked if he had anything to say, and he said he "guess it wouldn't be any use because you had it framed on me." The court imposed the limit of $25 and costs, amounting in all to $46.60, or 47 days in jail.

NEW YORK PAPERS TIED UP

Newspaper Web Pressmen's Union
Strike Due To Wage Argument

(By United Press)
New York, Sept. 18.—New York City awoke to find its morning paper missing from the doorstep.

A strike of 2500 members of the Newspaper Web Pressmen's union, local 25, early today tied up practically every daily in the greater city. An exception was the New York Socialist.

The walkout came as the culmination of eighteen months of bitter strife over wages and working conditions. It was unexpected, however as far as the general public was concerned.

An agreement which the pressmen had submitted to early in 1921 known as the Manton award, based on a decision handed down by a New York judge of that name was the bone of contention. The pressman, for the most part, had never been satisfied with the wages and working conditions this embraced.

RENEWED THREAT OF BALKAN WAR IS SEEN

Action Of Italy In Appointing Gen.
Giardino Military Dictator Of Fiume
So Regarded

SUSPICION IS AROUSED

Paris, Sept. 18.—Renewed threat of a Balkan war was seen here today in the action of Italy appointing General Giardino as virtual military dictator of Fiume following resignation of the regent.

Dispatches from Belgrade said the Italian action had aroused intense suspicion. Jugo-Slavia was planning a blockade of Fiume from the land side as its first move against the Giardino regime. All supplies and traffic into the Fiumian state will be suspended.

Meantime Bulgaria claimed a Jugo-Slav invasion of Bulgaria is threatened.

The Bulgarian charge d'affaires, M. Morleoff, arrived last night from Geneva to seek allied intervention against the alleged threatened military action. He charged that Jugo-Slavia has mobilized four divisions on the Bulgarian frontier.

Bulgaria intends to appeal to the league, Morleoff said.

WALTON READY FOR SHOWDOWN

Additional Troops Arrive In Oklahoma City To Assist Governor
In Disbanding Klan

TROOP MOVEMENT CENSORED

Military Court Of Inquiry Established And Resumes Its Second Day's Session

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 18.—Additional national guard troops arrived here today as Governor Jack Walton prepared for a showdown in his fight to disband the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma.

Strict censorship of troop movements was at once established by Col. W. S. Key commandant of the Oklahoma county area where Governor Walton has concentrated his attack on the "invisible empire."

Battery A, 189th Field Artillery of Enid were the first troops to arrive from outside the county. Four machine guns were unloaded with the other equipment of the guardsmen.

Governor Walton's military court of inquiry through which he expects to break the power of the K. K. K. in Oklahoma was established and scheduled to resume its sessions today. A dozen witnesses were examined during the first day of investigation.

The governor returned today from Okmulgee county where he delivered two vigorous speeches in which he repeated his determination to rule the state with bayonet and machine gun until the "invisible empire" had been driven out of existence in Oklahoma.

Okmulgee county, which was first to feel the grip of martial law last spring when Walton began his militant drive on the klan turned out in thousands to hear the governor's speeches. At Okmulgee where he spoke last night after issuing a challenge to the Klan to whip him as he claimed they had threatened, hundreds were unable to enter the crowded theatre.

A blazing white cross-blazed defiantly from the roof of the klan temple a few blocks away and the Okmulgee chapter of the "invisible empire" was reported in executive session during the governor's address.

Aside from this flaming symbol of klan protest there was no demonstration against the executive.

The governor admitted in his address that the grand jury which sought to meet here and investigate charges he misused public funds, had forced him to play his trump card and blanket the state with military rule.

"That jury was dominated by klanmen who sought to indict me," he declared. "I have established a military court of inquiry which will indict the real anarchists of this state."

While the governor planned his final offensive against the "invisible empire" officials of the klan remained silent.

"N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm," whose challenge to the governor to break the power of the klan in the state was given as one of the reasons the governor proclaimed martial law, refused to comment on Walton's latest move.

The annual Oklahoma state fair scheduled to begin here Friday was

500 HOMES ARE DESTROYED

Practically Nothing Is Saved From 75 Per Cent Of The Buildings
Which Burned

(By United Press)

Petaluma, Cal., Sept. 18.—Cottages summer homes and resorts in Sonoma county to an estimated number of 200 were destroyed during the night by forest fires. The fire was the most disastrous in northern California in years.

Napa, California, Sept. 18.—The popular Johannisburg resort near Napa was burned during the night by a forest fire, which swept from the upper Napa valley across the ridges into the Sonoma valley. A dwelling house was the only building of the Johannisburg resort that was saved.

Berkely, Calif., Sept. 18.—Members of the reserve officers training camp, connection with the University of California, today patrolled the ruins of fifty blocks of the residential section of classic Berkeley—"cultural center" of the Pacific coast.

The student soldiers, all armed were guarding against looting which was reported to have been attempted in one or two instances before daylight.

Four shots at alleged looters were fired, according to reports at headquarters but one was injured.

The burned area was placed under what amounted to martial law this morning.

Reserve corps detachments formed lines around the ruins and all persons who could prove they had homes in the burned districts were allowed ten minutes each inside the lines to visit the ruins in search of anything of value. No one else was passed through the lines.

Police said they had what appeared to be well authenticated stories of four persons having been killed in the fire but they could not confirm these reports in any way.

Fire which was burning in the Berkeley Hills swept the residential district and a summary of the damage today showed:

Fifty blocks of the finest residential section destroyed.

Five hundred homes destroyed, at least half of them worth more than $10,000.

Seventeen fraternity and sorority houses connected with the University of California burned.

(It was in one of these that three students were at first reported to have lost their lives, a report as yet unconfirmed).

Property damage amounting to $5,000,000.

Five thousand homeless.

Paintings, antiques, curios and libraries of inestimable value destroyed.

Practically nothing saved you from 75 per cent of the buildings burned. The region swept by fire was about three quarters of a mile wide along the north side of the university of California campus. It was some times referred to as the "cultural center" of the Pacific coast.

COUPE STRIKES A POLE

Frank Cross Steers Car Into Pole to
Avoid a Smash-up

A Ford coupe owned and driven by Frank Cross of north of the city, was badly damaged about eleven o'clock this morning at the corner of Eighth and Main streets, when it struck a large telephone pole, in order to avoid hitting another machine.

Mr. Cross was going north on Main street, and a Ford sedan driven by a traveling salesman was attempting to enter Main street from the west, and in order to prevent a serious smash-up, Mr. Cross swung his machine around and struck the pole. The two front wheels, the springs and axle on the front, a front light and a fender, all were completely torn from the machine. No one was injured.

LITTER OF TEN BREAKS RECORD

Pigs Average 297 Pounds When Officially Weighed at Mt. Oreb, Ohio Recently

1922 CHAMPION IN INDIANA

Ohio Winner Exceeds Hoosier Record 21 Pounds Per Hog But Not in Total Weight

A litter of ten pigs broke the world's record for ten litters by making an average weight of 297 pounds when officially weighed at the G. L. Evans farm, Mt. Oreb, Ohio, August 29, the 180th day. The record was held by a 1922 Indiana Poland China litter of eleven pigs, which averaged 276 pounds on the 180th day. The Ohio litter exceeded the former champions by 21 pounds per head, though not in total weight of litter.

The sire of the litter was sired by Cicotte, the world's champion Poland China boar of 1921, and the dam of the litter's sire was by The Rainbow, grand champion boar of the 1920 Iowa State Fair.

The litter was the seventh farrowed by the dam. She raised 66 of 71 pigs farrowed in the seven litters.

and farrowed a litter of nine eight days before this ton litter were officially weighed.

This unprecedented growth was made largely on a wheat ration. During the period from weaning to four months the ration was two parts ground wheat, two parts ground oats one part ground corn. During the last two months the ration was two parts ground wheat and one part ground corn, fed as slop mixed one feed ahead.

The litter was farrowed March 2, 1923, and were officially weighed August 29, being three days less than six calendar months of age, but rules call for weighing on the 180th day. The weights and gains were as follows:

Age	Weight	Gain per head
Days		per day to date
92	910	0.99
120	1,430	1.19
150	2,165	1.44

During the period from 92 to 120 days they gained 1.86 pounds per head per day, from 120 to 150 days 2.45 pounds and during the last thirty days they gained 2.68 pounds per head per day.

Farmers Must Reduce Costs

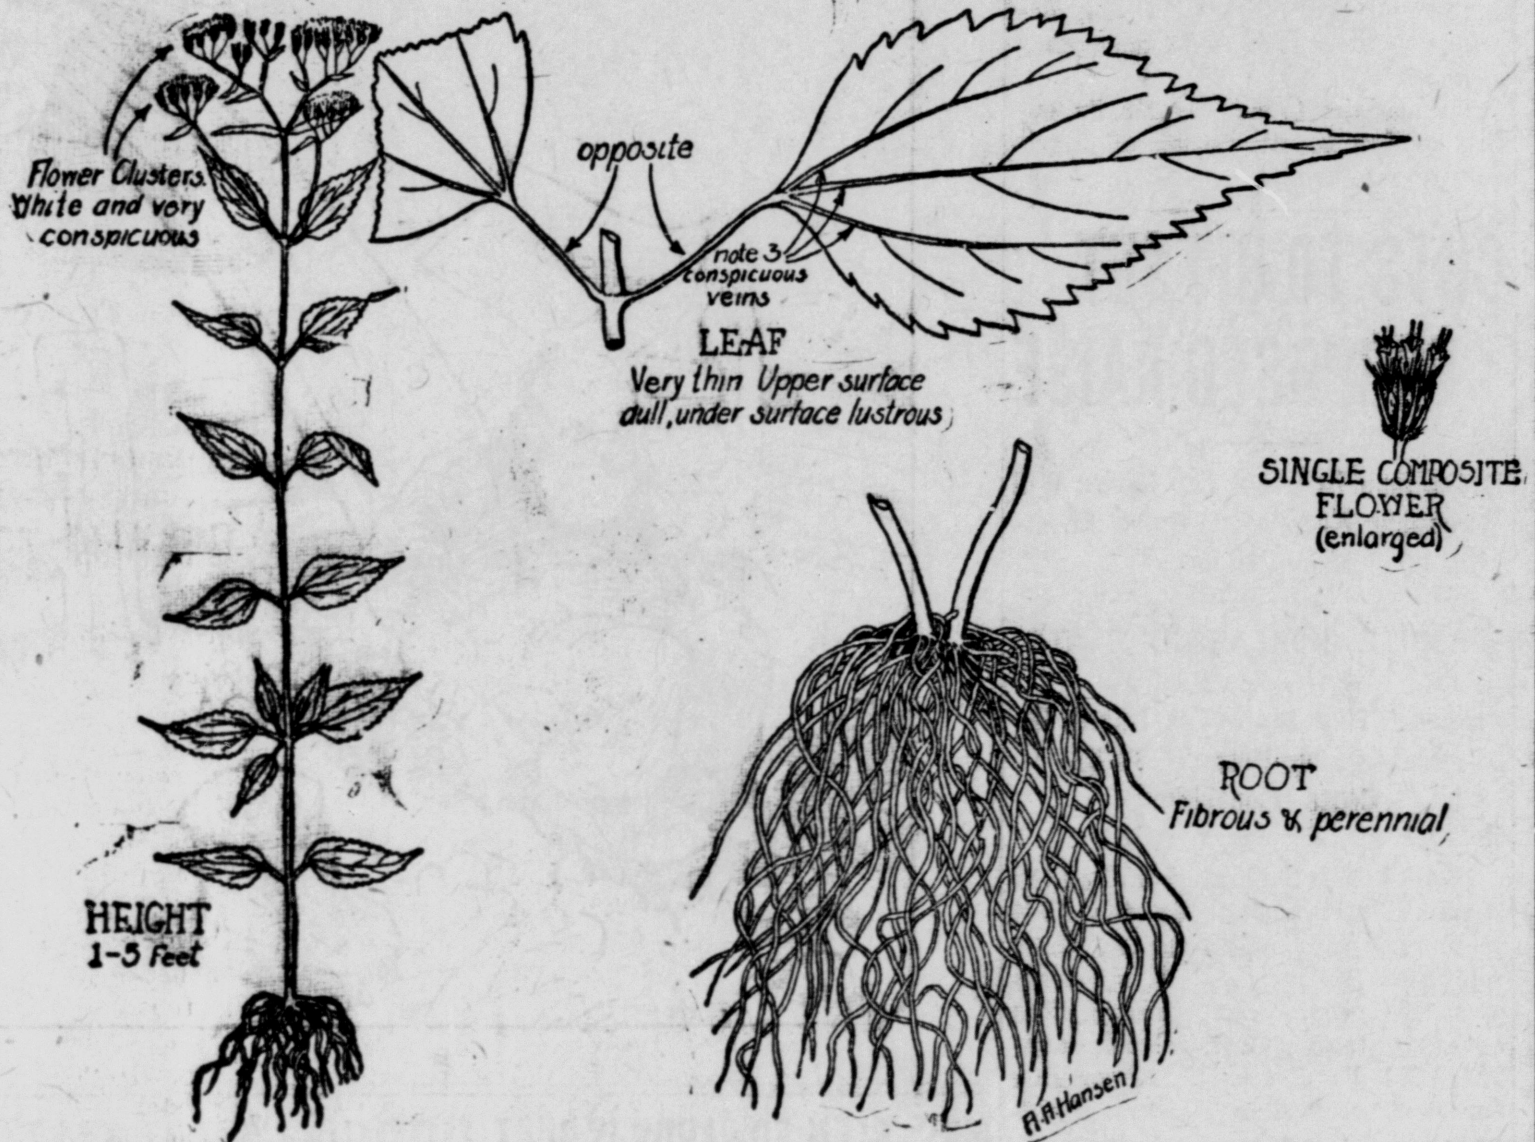

Since the market price of farm products is too low to afford the farmer a profit, and as there is no indication of an advance it appears that it is up to the farmer to reduce his cost of production if he is to make a profit. He can do this by more efficient media. If a scrub litter of pigs go to market at six months weighing 1,500 pounds while a pure bred litter goes to market at the same age weighing twice that amount it is quite evident that he has produced the latter with less labor, investment and feed per cwt. than the former. An Ohio farmer marketed a litter of ten pigs September 1 which weighed 2,970 pounds.

White Snakeroot, Poison Plant Fatal To Live Stock Is Found In all Parts of Indiana

WHITE SNAKEROOT GROWS TYPICALLY IN WOODLAND PASTURES

White snakeroot, the cause of trembles, a fatal disease of sheep, cattle and horses, and the plant that poisons milk and causes a human disease known as milk sickness, is common in woodland pastures in all parts of Indiana. The accompanying photograph shows it to good advantage.

Both trembles and milk sickness was much more prevalent in former years than now, since the plant does not persist after the land has been cleared and cultivated. Nevertheless it has been clearly demonstrated by Purdue University workers that considerable amount of forage poisoning in Indiana is due to this plant and numerous cases of milk sickness in the state occur from time to time. Entire townships have been found in which both milk sickness and trembles is prevalent every year. The poisonous properties of white snakeroot have been demonstrated by experiments conducted at the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station. The fact that white snakeroot is the cause of trembles and milk sickness is a comparatively recent discovery.

According to A. A. Hansen of the Agricultural Extension Department the typical symptoms of white snakeroot poisoning in sheep and cattle are spasms of severe trembling, which are especially noticeable when the poisoned animals are driven. Ordinarily a quantity of snakeroot equal to about ten per cent of the weight of the animal is necessary before the results are fatal, but the poison may accumulate in the system during a period of several weeks. The disease usually becomes apparent after the first of July.

The typical symptoms of milk sickness in the human are severe intestinal paralysis accompanied by vomiting, foul breath and occasional delirium without rise in temperature. Many early pioneers including the mother of Abraham Lincoln, died as a result of contracting milk sickness from snakeroot-poisoned milk, although the cause of the trouble was then unknown.

The most practicable way to destroy white snakeroot is by hand pulling during September and October when the bright flower clusters are conspicuous. Mowing is of little value since the roots will sprout even after close cutting. Fortunately the roots are shallow and plants are not difficult to pull. White snakeroot has a number of harmless relatives that so closely resemble the poisonous plant that identification is frequently difficult. All farmers who have lost stock in woodland pastures from plant poisoning should examine the land for white snakeroot. In case of doubt, send specimens for identification to the Division of Botany, Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station, Lafayette, Indiana.

Police powers of the city were returned to civil authorities but this was not regarded as a weakening of Walton's determination to continue rule of the mailed fist until the clan had been overthrown.

Ultimatum of Mayor Cargill that the expense of maintaining the police force would be saddled on the state if the civil officers were made answerable to the military, was said to be the real reason for reinvesting the regular authorities with the police power. Colony Key announced that police officers were still subject to command of the military. Arrival of extra troops indicates the governor plans to finish his fight. Arrangements are under way, it was learned to raise additional funds to carry on an extended campaign. These plans were withheld but it is understood the money will be borrowed if possible from eastern sources. Expenses of maintaining the present troops is rapidly consuming the balance of the $200,000 appropriation of the last legislature for special investigation of lawlessness.

INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

Bloomington, Sept. 18—A ten per cent increase in enrollment is anticipated by officials of Indiana university here this year. School opened today. Credentials from 800 freshmen have already been received. Record enrollment was made last year when 2,954 students matriculated.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL OPENED

Wheat Surplus Being Used As Feed For Livestock

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 17.—Between 15,000 and 25,000 bushels of wheat have been fed by farmers of Clay county to their livestock since July 1, according to an estimate made today by the Clay county farm bureau.

Some farmers have already fed as high as 300 and 400 bushels, a survey showed. Farmers expect to continue feeding their wheat unless there is a considerable increase in prices during the next two or three months. Most of the wheat fed has been of the best quality.

From the survey farm bureau officials estimate that taking Clay county as an average county, between 60,000,000 and 80,000,000 bushels have been fed to stock over the country, and that the surplus of 200,000,000 bushels reported by the government in August will have vanished by spring.

URGES LOYALTY TO THE CONSTITUTION

The speaker pointed out that this is a government of law and not of man and that the duration of our present form of government depends upon our acceptance of that fact.

"No matter how any organization may attempt to enforce its edicts," he asserted, "is un-American when it works in any way except under the law."

Mr. Davison declared that a million and a half people in this country are working to bring about the downfall of the government and that more than 500 publications are devoted to that cause. He referred to the Third Internationale that is endeavoring to bring about the rule of the Moscow government in this country.

"Already danger signals are flying in the air," the speaker continued, "and the cry of all liberty-loving people should be back to the constitution."

"All efforts to redress wrongs except by due process of law are un-Christian and un-American."

Mr. Davison mentioned the three branches of government—executive, legislative and judicial, and explained their functions, which are set forth in the constitution, that has been in successful operation for 134 years.

"While it took only four months for framers to present the constitution," the speaker pointed out, "you must know that its beginning extends back for several centuries."

Mr. Davison then outlined the development of the movement that eventually led to the constitution, referring to the first concession made by King Henry the Fourth of England in 1100 and the granting of the Magna Charter by King John in the next century. He alluded to the fact that the great charter of English liberty would never have been granted had it not been for the influence of the business men and the merchants of London.

This calls to mind, he said, that merchants, business men and men of finance have ever been liberty-loving people and have always used their influence in that direction.

"Thereafter, 37 times," the speaker continued, "the people called on their kings to reaffirm their rights. The Magna Charter first established the fact that life and property shall not be taken without due process of law."

The constitution was duly adopted September 17, 1787, he said, "and it is by virtue of the laws and by virtue of the courts that we have existed."

The constitution delegates powers to the people's representatives, he pointed out, and the supreme court is the sentinel that seems none of the people's representatives violates such powers.

"Let us obey the law because it is the law," was his closing appeal, "and work, if we think it unjust, for its amendment or repeal in an orderly manner prescribed by the constitution."

"What the dykes are to Holland, the American constitution is to the citizens of the United States, and as in Holland, they watch the dykes to safeguard their country, so its our duty to watch the constitution and see that it is not violated."

Douglas Morris and three members of the high school faculty—John M. Swain, Dean E. Walker and L. E. Adams were guests.

COMING TO STATE THIS WEEK

Senator Watson And Other Leaders
Due For Conference

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18. — Although nothing of importance is scheduled to take place in Indiana Republican circles this week several of the party leaders will be in the city during the next few days. Clyde A. Wall Lagrange, state chairman, will be at the state headquarters in the Hotel Severin today and tomorrow. He is to hold a number of conferences with organization men and women. Postmaster General Harry S. New is scheduled to be in Indianapolis tomorrow and Thursday. Senator James E. Watson will return to the city during the week.

Republican district meetings will be resumed next week. The Sixth district meeting will be held at New-castle, Sept. 26, and a Fourth district meeting will be held at North Vernon, Sept. 27. Mr. Wall, Fredrick E. Schortemeier, secretary of the state committee; Miss Etelka Rockenbach, New Albany; Mrs. Edna Herr Bucklin, Brazil and Lawrence Cartwright, Portland, vice chairman of the state committee, are to attend the sessions.

William Z. Foster Arrested For
Spreading Un-American Ideals

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18. — William Z. Foster, labor leader was freed in city court today when arraigned on charges of "seditious utterances." Judge M. J. Kilroy held that as long as Foster had rented a hall and paid for it, with his own money, he was entitled to say what he pleased as long as it didn't result in a disturbance of the peace.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18. — William Z. Foster, arrested here last night after appealing to an audience in Carpenter's Hall for funds to help pay attorneys in his trial for alleged sedition at Bridge-man, Mich., was released early today on $1,000 bail. John Micheli, who was secretary of the meeting, was also held under arrest and under $1,000 bail with Foster.

Although no formal charge was placed against the two men, police said they were arrested because Foster was spreading ideas which sounded un-American to them. Foster was ordered to appear today before Chief of Police Vassar.

About 300 heard Foster's speech on "my trial in Michigan for communism." A total of $63 was subscribed for his defense fund before he was arrested.

TO END WAR BETWEEN

"BEER SYNDICATES"

Chicago Police to Close Saloons And
Round up Beer Runners And
Gangsters

SECOND OUTBREAK OF FEUD

Chicago, Sept. 18—Roundup of all known beer runners and gangsters, closing of every "saloon, soft drink parlor, and coffee shop" and a definite search for three men believed guilty of murder were steps taken by Chicago police and detectives today in a campaign to end violent warfare between rival "beer syndicates".

Two men—"Georgia" Meeghan, and "Spot" Bucher—were shot and instantly killed last night while driving their automobile through a heavy traffic jam. The shots came from another automobile which sped away before police reached the scene.

The shooting, which marked the second outbreak of a feud which police believe exists between rival gangsters and beer runners, was followed by immediate orders from Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins and Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes to round up all known gangsters and beer runners.

Mayor William Dever took a hand in the campaign to end the war when he appeared at his office early today and ordered a conference for all police and detective department officials in which he was prepared to ask that all "saloons, soft drink parlors and coffee shops" be closed.

Police said they expected another gang shooting but were surprised at the shooting of the two men last night. Meeghan and Bucher were alleged members of the "O'Conner gang", one of whose members was shot to death Sunday. They expected a member of the rival "Torrio" gang would be killed in revenge.

JUST AND RIGHT:—A God of truth and without iniquity just and right is He.—Deuteronomy 32: 4.

Constitution Week

President Coolidge said that to live under the American constitution is the greatest political privilege that was ever accorded to the human race, but far too many people do not appreciate that fact.

Perhaps it is well that our thoughts are turned this week to the glorious work of our forefathers, who wrote for us the greatest document defining human rights that was ever constructed from the mind of man.

Though we may at times seem to be straying far from the path laid down 136 years ago to guide us through rough seas, America is far from coming to disaster. There may be occasion, now and then, to view the future gloomily, to fear that elements are at work which may undermine the foundation upon which the greatest republic in the world rests, but Americans value their heritage to highly to permit it to slip from their grasp without a struggle.

We saw men rise to the emergency in 1917, when autocracy threatened our democratic standards of government. We will see men come forward again when our land and its ideals are threatened. We have reason to be alarmed, not infrequently, at the danger from within, at the apparent intolerance, and disregard for law, that is abroad, but all true Americans have faith in the inherent trait of the people to sense danger and to right themselves and repel the forces that seek to destroy that which is dearest to loyal Americans.

The majority still rules, but the minority is amply protected by a sacred document that will all honor and respect, not along this week, but for all the weeks to come. May we give evidence of our respect by observing the law, being tolerant in our views and charitable in our acts.

Coolidge Served Whole Nation

When Samuel Gompers started in to unionize police, firemen and school teachers of Boston he heard from Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts.

The proposition to throw public servants wholesale into the ranks of organized labor Coolidge declared was fraught with public danger.

With Boston municipal employees once unionized, the other cities of Our Country would have followed suit in one, two, three order.

The demoralization of organized labor would have followed as a result of injecting the professional politicians and white collar classes into the unions.

If the scheme proved practical it would have amounted to a political dictatorship, confiscatory in its raids on the tax payers.

Coolidge showed a courage not common among statesmen. He called the halt. Speaking for the farmers and smaller property owners he asserted the principle of no divided allegiances in the public service.

Police, firemen and public school teachers could not take orders from President Gompers and the A. F. of L. and also remain loyal to the public service.

FALSE ARREST CHARGE

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 18. —Charging false arrest and mistreatment, Mrs. Anna Nichols, of Seelyville, has brought suit for $50,000 damages against Chief of Police Conover, Sheriff Fred Armstrong, and five citizens of Seelyville. She was arrested in connection with the death of her husband, Guy Nichols, whose body was found beside a railroad track last May. The coroner's report showed the man had been stabbed to death and left by the railroad.

CONFERENCE MAY NEVER BE HELD

Two Out of Three Foreign Countries
Shy Away From Proposals on
Second Disarmament Session

JAPAN WILLING TO COME

Great Britain and France Appear
Unwilling to Finish The Work
Done at First Conference

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
Washington, Sept. 18—Feelers have been put out by the United States to three foreign governments to learn their attitude towards a second disarmament conference.

Two of the three have shied away from the proposal. The third is willing to attend another conference. Great Britain, France and Japan have been approached on the subject. The feelers have been put out unofficially, and not as direct diplomatic inquiries from this government to the others.

The purpose of the second conference, as outlined in the unofficial sounding out process, was to supplement and complete the work of the first parley, held in Washington two years ago. Further consideration of Pacific questions and another effort to get somewhere on submarine and aircraft limitation were included in the unofficial suggestions.

Great Britain's attitude as reflected in replies to the preliminary suggestion is hesitant. The British seemed to have the idea that such a conference might embarrass British plans for creating one of the world's greatest naval bases at Singapore, a project the announcement of which caused a stir some months ago.

France also showed little enthusiasm for a second conference, her attitude being that some effort might be made at such a conference to obtain leverage by which to coerce her in the reparations question.

Japan's attitude expressed willingness to entertain an invitation from this government for another conference.

President Harding intended, had he lived, to summon a second conference to carry on the work of the first and to develop his association of nations idea.

Dennings Havens has returned from an extended stay in Northern Michigan, where he went to seek relief for hay fever. He says that very little relief came, however, and that most of the sufferers experienced a deal of annoyance from the smoke of the forest fires.

Our bustling, neighboring town of Carthage is planning for a fall horse show and from indications it is going to be a ding-hammer, lively one-day affair. Cash prizes to the amount of $250 are to be distributed among the horsemen. The show will occur on Saturday, September 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newsom went to Rushville last week, says the Carthage Citizen, to heal Caleb Powers, and were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frany Sparks. Mr. Powers and Mr. Newsom were classmates at West Point Academy in 1890 and for this reason Mr. Newsom was especially interested in the famous Kentuckian's story.

Rushville horses and drivers figure in the limelight—and incidentally in the big end of the purses—at the big races yesterday. At Port Wayne, that remarkable pacing mare Aileen Wilson, that can probably skin anything in the country, won a race against a fast field of starters, including Lady Maud C. and R. F. D. Harrie Jones won another event at Ft. Wayne with "Laura Jones." Cell Maple started George Anderson's "Lady Posey" in the same race and laid back, taking fourth money easily. At Eaton yesterday Bruce Graham won handily with "Consul General." Rushville horses are getting more than their share of the goods this season.

What Is An
"Independent?"

THE dictionary says:—An independent is one who exercises his own will or judgment without the guidance or control of others—whether in thought or some sphere of action.

In discussing the petroleum industry, the press and the public use the term "independents" to designate the competitors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The definition quoted exactly fits the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as it neither owes nor acknowledges allegiance to any man or organization.

This clearly defines the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as an "independent."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is owned by 41,922 stockholders—not one of whom owns as much as 6% of the total stock.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is managed by a Board of Directors of ten men—every one of whom started in a comparatively humble capacity and earned his place on the Board by sheer ability. These men devote their entire time to the business of this Company.

While the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) neither owes nor acknowledges allegiance to any man or organization, it is proud to acknowledge its obligation—

First—to its stockholders who have invested their capital in the enterprise.

Second—to 27,000 loyal, earnest, hard-working employees, 10,000 of whom also are stockholders.

Third—to the 30,000,000 people in the ten Middle Western states who have come to look upon this Company as a leader in a highly specialized branch of essential industry.

Fourth—to those of our competitors who, with the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are striving to make the oil business useful to all the people.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) tries earnestly at all times to discharge its obligation to these four groups in such a highly satisfactory manner as to reflect credit not only upon itself but upon the industry as a whole.

DEMPSEY'S FOULS ONLY MINOR ONES

Firpo's Handlers Charge Their Man Lost Because He Adhered to Rules And Champion Didn't

FEW SMALL INFRACTIONS

South American Really Knocked Out in First Round But Got Back Due to Misunderstanding

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 18—Much is being made over the number and variety of fouls that the admirers of Luis Angel Firpo allege Jack Dempsey committed against him when the champion was waging his terrific battle Friday night to retain his crown.

Firpo's handlers charge that their man failed to win the championship because he adhered to the rules and the champion did not and Horacio Lavelle, the trainer of the South American, went so far as to state that the referee was supporting Dempsey with more than his heart.

Dempsey did commit a few minor infractions of the rules, it is true, but they were not serious enough to make him liable for disqualification, and when he did transgress the rules it was done at a time when it was obvious that the champion was groggy and did not know exactly what he was doing.

Firpo might have suffered a little when Dempsey hit him once before he was entirely erect after a knock-down, once when the champion punched him after the bell and again when Jack was helped back into the ring after he had been knocked through the ropes into the press box.

The South American, however, got the best break of the evening when he was given a count of more than 12 early in the first round. He was really knocked out soon after the fight opened and was on the floor when both the referee and the time keeper reached the count of ten.

In the excitement the referee thought it was the duty of the counting time keeper to declare the "out" and the timekeeper thought the referee should do it. They both hesitated and Firpo got to his feet and continued to fight.

This happened before Dempsey had committed any fouls.

Wm. Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission, says that Dempsey could have been disqualified for being assisted back into the ring. The champion, however, was not given too much assistance. He was given a little shove by a newspaperman who was actuated more by the motive to get 192 pounds off him than by the desire to help Dempsey back into the ring and save the championship.

Dempsey fell in such a position that he had little difficulty in squirming around and pulling himself back into the ring without help. Anyone who sat in the narrow seats in the press box would know that no one man or two men could get leverage enough to push close to 200 pounds up over their heads and into the ring.

The Score Board

George Kelly hit three homers in three straight trips to the plate and helped the Giants win from the Cubs 13 to 6.

Joe Bush was hit hard and timely and the Yankees failed to cinch the pennant when they were downed by the Indians 6 to 2.

Rube Marquard stopped the Pirates while the Braves were pounding two pitchers and Boston won, 6-1.

Four runs scored on a rally in the fifth inning gave the Cards a 6 to 5 win from the Phils.

Walter Johnson pitched the Senators to a double victory over the Browns at 5-4 and 12-2.

Behind the good pitching of Laylor and Heimach, the Athletics beat the Tigers in a double header at 2-0 and 4-3.

After dropping the first game 6-1, the Red Sox copped the second from the White Sox at 6 to 5.

Yesterday's Home Run Hitters

Kelly, Giants, 3-16.
Meusel, Giants, 1-19.
Brower, Cleveland, 1-16.
Speaker, Cleveland, 1-15.
O'Farrell, Cubs 1-11.

NINE VETERANS BACK

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 18—With nine veterans of last year's squad in uniform and 13 of the substitute string available, Notre Dame's football team settled down to regular practice today. Nearly one hundred candidates turned out in response to Coach Rockne's call.

New Haven, Conn.—Eighteen veterans were among the fifty players who reported with the Yale football squad to Coach Tad Jones. The small squad is due to the ruling which disqualified practically the entire sophomore class.

FIRPO'S MOMENT OF GLORY

This is the punch that rocked Dempsey's whole body. It was a nasty rap that Firpo landed early in the first round. Through the ropes and onto the shoulders of "Kid" McPartland, one of the judges at the ringside, went Jack. Looked for a minute like it would be a knockout. But the champion was on his feet in a hurry.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

U. S. Supreme in Tennis World

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 18—In no other international sport, with the possible exception of the Olympic games, has the United States established the prestige and superiority that it has in tennis.

American golfers have had only ordinary success in international play and as a golf nation the United States is much younger than it is on the court.

Polo, another of the more polite sports, has brought mixed success to American teams and, although the international cup is held at present in this country, the supremacy of this country is not so pronounced, as England had to start all over after the ravages of the war.

The United States has yet to be defeated in the Olympic games, mostly because this country has such a big start and has such an immense field to draw from. With the development of track and field sports in the smaller European nations, the prestige of the United States is threatened and will be actually endangered at the Paris games next Summer.

European nations still hold almost complete sway in fencing, and American oarsmen have not been consistently successful in the big international regattas.

Professional boxing, in which the United States is almost supreme, is not considered because the game as it is promoted and managed in the United States offers little to boast about in clean sportsmanship.

During the regime of the late Wilding, Brooks and Patterson, Australia was about as safe in the possession of the cup as the United States is now with Tilden and Johnston holding places as the two best players in the world.

Australia is developing some good young players, but it takes years and the outlay of a great sum of money to train a young player for Davis Cup play.

James O. Anderson, the Australian team captain, was the only one who stood out this year as a player capable of extending either Tilden or Johnston, and no nation can hope to win the cup with only one player.

As tennis goes, Tilden and Johnston are still young players, and they should have several years ahead of them before they start to slip.

As long as they remain on their game they should be able to defend the cup successfully, as there are no outstanding young players in quantity being developed by rival nations.

AIRMAIL PILOTS IN RACES

To Compete In 300 Kilometer Event For Mail Flyers At St. Louis

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18.—Eight or ten pilots of the Government airmail, with their planes, will be sent to the international air races at St. Louis field here to compete in the special 300 kilometer race for mail flyers Oct. 3, the Post Office Department has notified the Aid Board.

Several of the flyers who participated in the successful transcontinental flights will be included.

The race is six times around the 50-kilometer triangular course, a total of 186 miles. Prizes consist of the Detroit News air mail trophy and $1,500 in cash.

Speed nearly as fast as that of the 200-kilometer Pulitzer world's speed trophy race the same day is expected to be attained.

60 FOOTBALL MEN OUT

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 18—Sixty candidates are out in football togs for daily practice and several others are expected to report before the week is over. Coaches Ingram and Gardner are giving the men preliminary work in punting, simple formations and chalk talk. Forty yearlings have reported for the freshman squad.

ELITE OF NATION'S AMATEURS IN FIELD

By EDWARD C. DERR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Flossmoor Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 18.—Thirty-two golfers—the elite of the nation's amateur lists—took the field in the first round of match play for the national amateur golf championship here today.

A cold, drizzling rain fell over the course an hour before Jesse Guillas, were scheduled to tee off. The las, were scheduled to tee off. The rain, accompanied by a fog, only added to the hazards which the players encountered on the long and difficult Flossmoor course.

Drawings for the first round of match play put three former champions and the present title holder in the first bracket, while two former champions and the present open champion were lined up in the second.

Today's pairings:

First bracket—Jesse Guilford and Louis Jacoby; Harold Weber and Dexter Cummings; S. D. Herron and Robert Martin; Jesse Sweetzer and Albert Zeckel, D. Shutte and Edgie Held; Art Sweet and E. P. Allis; T. J. Fryany and W. C. Fowles, Jr.; R. A. Gardner and Rudolph Knepper.

Second bracket—M. Marston and J. M. Simpson; T. B. Cochrane and Robert Jones; J. M. Wells and C. F. Wells; H. K. B. Davis and George Blossom; Chick Evans and Willie Haines; James Manion and Francis Blossom; Chick Evans and Willie Hunter; George VonElm and Captain E. F. Carter.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church with Mrs. George Green in charge.

Mrs. Charles Brown entertained Monday evening at her home in West Fourth street with two tables of bridge. Following the card games the ladies were served with delicious refreshments.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I am sure glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Eldridge, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist church will hold a called meeting Wednesday afternoon at the church. All the ladies are urged to attend this meeting as business of importance will be transacted at this meeting.

The Royal Garden Entertainers will furnish a program of dance music at the first dance of the fall season to be given at the Elks Club rooms Thursday evening. Many out-of-town guests as well as local guests are expected to attend this dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosburg entertained Sunday at their home south of the city with a dinner party, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mosburg and sons Wilbur and Vern, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley York and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Timberman of Glenwood.

The picnic for the Industrial Club, which was to have been held Wednesday at Memorial park, has been postponed and the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edith Gohring in North Arthur street instead. All members are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Lucy Meredith entertained with a prettily appointed three-course dinner party Monday evening at her home in North Morgan street. Covers were laid for Mrs. Jesse Slaughter of Denver, Colorado, Miss Mae Meredith and the Rev. and Mrs. Gibson Wilson and family.

The following sorority pledges have been announced by DePauw University, including local girls: Miss June Lightfoot has been pledged to Alpha Chi Omega, and Miss Rowena Kennedy to Delta Delta Delta. Both Miss Lightfoot and Miss Kennedy are graduates of the local high school.

The War Mothers will hold their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the court house.

Honoring the seventy sixth birthday anniversary of William Moore, of Carthage, fifty-six children, grand children and great grandchildren enjoyed an all day outing at Hills Grove, northwest of Carthage Sunday. At the noon hour a delicious pitch-in dinner was served and the afternoon was enjoyed with horse-shoe and football.

The East Central Associational meeting of the B. Y. P. U. will be held at the Richmond Baptist church Thursday evening of this week. The meeting will be a rally and also an organization meeting, as the association has just been recently formed and no organization made. Three counties, Wayne, Fayette and Rush, compose the association and a large delegation from the local chapter of the B. Y. P. U. is expected to attend this meeting. At 6:30 o'clock supper will be served followed by the regular meeting.

"Values of a Novel" was the subject discussed at the first meeting of the new year of the Komentri Club, which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Osborne in West Fifth street. The subject, as a whole, was discussed in a very interesting manner by Mrs. Kate Allen, and sub-topical talks were given by Mrs. Russell Jordan, Mrs. Ben Sparks, Miss Mary Junken and Mrs. Earl Osborn. Mrs. Margery Knecht gave "The Life of a Daniel DeFoe." A short business meeting was held following the program, and a social hour closed the afternoon's entertainment during which the hostess served delicious refreshments to her guests.

FIVE THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS

The fire was controlled last night since when all efforts have been directed towards relief work.

The Y. M. C. A., student organizations and the Red Cross combined in the work of relieving the homeless. A registry of refugees at 2 a. m., today showed thirty persons still unaccounted for, but not listed as missing.

Six Students who had been confined in the university infirmary were badly injured. Scores were treated for minor injuries, so many that no count was kept.

Houses of Berkley were thrown open to parties of refugees today, while hundreds slept in university buildings.

Approximately 1,000 college girls, wearing kitchen aprons begrimed with smoke, assisted the Red Cross this morning while 500 others donned knickers and went out to fight brush fires that were the cause of the conflagration and that still burned ominously near.

Berkley presented a remarkable picture this morning. The fire had burned so fiercely, developing such intense heat, that hardly could the frames of the destroyed homes be distinguished. Some of the homeless who remained in the zone had difficulty in picking out their late domiciles.

The devastated district was practically levelled. Each building glowed like the remains of a bonfire.

Men, women, girls and boys, with soot-blackened faces, moved about among the debris in the dawn.

The fire fighters who stood off the brush fires up until midnight after the disaster to the residential district had occurred were called in, all but about one thousand left on guard.

All during yesterday fire departments of the east bay cities had been answering calls to hundreds of fires. The Oakland fire department answered fifty calls in 45 minutes.

One of these, whipped by the strong gale blowing, got beyond control of the thousands who helped fight it and was subdued only by the use of dynamite. Students of the University rallied to prevent destruction of their campus.

When the flames were finally brought under control after dark, it was estimated that nearly one thousand buildings, mostly homes, had been destroyed, making the fire the greatest disaster to visit San Francisco bay region since the earthquake and fire of 1906. Fifty square blocks were razed, leaving only smoke blackened chimneys to show where houses used to stand. Fire hazard has not yet been

LOCKWOOD IS GOING STRONG

Endurance Contest Driver Goes Through Here At 11 A. M.

"Daredevil" Lockwood, who is driving an automobile in an endurance contest on a wager of $2,000 was still going this morning at eleven o'clock when he passed through Rushville. Lockwood has been driving since last Friday noon, when he left the Circle in Indianapolis, and he hopes to continue until 12:30 p. m. Wednesday in order to break his own record for continuous driving. Lockwood did not show the strain of the ordeal when he went through here and appeared as fresh as he did the first day. The car is without a top, but a makeshift affair to keep out the rain has been erected over the front seat. Lockwood is accompanied by a trained nurse.

He was delayed for a short time at Anderson Monday when he ran into another car, which apparently was trying to stop him, but the radiator of the Maxwell was damaged, and was repaired while Lockwood kept his car in motion.

Greensburg — Earl F. Himes, 33, fourteen years, will enter the Cincinnati Bible institute to prepare for the ministry.

"The Grub-Stake," Mystic

Few pictures are destined to make a wider appeal than "The Grub-Stake," in which Nell Shipman stars at the Mystic Theatre again today. This remarkable girl noted for her pictures of the great outdoors, not only plays the leading role in the new picture, but wrote the story and, with Bert Van Tayle, directed it. It is truly a Nell Shipman production.

The story is an intensely interesting one and derives its title from the term first used during the gold rush to the Klondike in 1898—"Grub-stake me, pardner, and I'll bring home the bacon!" Give me a grub-stake, mister, and I'll make you rich." This appeal was made by prospectors anxious to seek their fortunes, but without the money necessary to outfit and provision themselves, and as obtaining a grub-stake meant the sharing of what treasure might be found, there were many gamblers eager to "grub-stake" those who were down but not out.

In Nell Shipman's picture it is a girl who makes the appeal to a man—a girl struggling against adverse circumstances in Seattle, who wishes to go to Alaska in order to make a fresh start. Without realizing, in the simplicity of her heart, the nature of the man she is dealing with she obtains her grub-stake and pays for it a price more bitter than she thought possible. It is from this incident that the story progresses through surprise, heartbreak, courage, thrilling adventures and unbelievable hardship to a conclusion as sweet as the air of the forests the heroine has learned to love.

"Fury" At Princess

Richard Barthelmess in "Fury," a rollicking, stirring drama of the deep sea from the facile pen of Edmund Goulding, will be the First National piece de resistance at the Princess again today.

This production is heralded as an even more ambitious dramatic effort than any other of Barthelmess' highly popular screen successes, including either "Tolable David" or "The Bond Boy."

A very large portion of the picture was taken at sea in a picturesque old four-masted sailing schooner, for Barthelmess plays the role of a cowed young second mate whose spirit is not thoroughly aroused until his father, the captain, throws discredit on the name of the girl the boy intended to marry.

Then, later on learning from the lips of his dying father the name of the man who had wronged his mother, his whole nature changes and he swears vengeance. Which leads to gripping denouement and the culmination of a romance.

Dorothy Gish is Barthelmess' leading lady, portraying the role of Minnie, the little London boarding house slaver with whom the bashful young mate falls in love. Tyrone Power, famous on stage and screen has the part of Captain Leyton. Others in important roles are Barry Macollum, Pat Hartigan and Jessie Arnold.

"Fury" was directed by Henry King, who also directed the preceding Barthelmess success of the past year.

ITALY STARTS EVACUATION

Advices From Corfu Say That The Troops Are Leaving Island

Athens, Sept. 17.—Evacuation of Corfu by Italian forces began today.

Advices from the disputed island which was seized by Italy as a punitive measure following the assassination at Janina say that two transports carried away all the aerial equipment that had been shipped to Corfu. Two aerodromes which had been established are being dismantled.

Censorship is being maintained by the Italian military commander at Corfu.

He charged that three horses, valued at $1,050, were killed in transit when they slipped on the slick floor and were trampled by other horses.

Unfit Gas!

— It Hacks at Every Angle of Motor Efficiency

Poor motor fuel doesn't stop with just being poor. In fact, its uncomfortable running and outward signs of general debility are in themselves about the least of its drawbacks. The mischief really comes inside the motor, where it gets in its hidden devastation at practically every vital point of engine performance.

Poor fuel, forced from unfit kerosenish elements, has the edge taken off its explosiveness long before it enters your motor. It burns slowly and brokenly. Its overloads of carbon clog valve action and lower the compression. Its kerosene sluices the oil from pistons and rings, and constantly menaces the bearings through steady dilution of the lubricating oil in the base.

Silver Flash Gasoline

Users pay a few cents more per gallon, ostensibly for the luxury of easy starting and comfortable running. But these virtues could not exist without the deeper qualities—less noticeable but more important.

They are really paying more for freedom from kerosene—spoiled oil and carbon—choked valves, for sound, clean, thorough explosiveness that does not hack and batter at the motor's very life.

It is the genuine straight-run gasoline of long ago—and every explosion is a witness of its fitness.

ABANDON LARGE CARGO OF BOOZE

Two "Runners" Escape East of Morristown After Machine Goes
in Ditch Due to Accident

POLICE SEARCH FOR THEM

Fred Cox of Morristown, Whose
Ford Was Practically Demolished
Escapes Without Injuries

A cargo of booze estimated to be worth $4,000 was abandoned by two men in a large automobile, on the road west of Rushville, and east of Morristown, Monday night about 8:30 o'clock, and local officers watched throughout the night for the men who escaped.

The machine was a Marmou, seven-passenger touring car, bearing an Ohio license, and was headed toward this city, and in attempting to pass a Ford sedan, going in the same direction, they sideswiped each other, and both cars went into the ditch, practically demolishing the Ford.

The Ford was driven by Fred Cox of Morristown, who was alone. He was unhurt and crawled out from underneath of the machine.

The booze runners car went into the ditch and was not damaged, but the two men in charge of it, made a quick escape, leaving their cargo behind.

The machine contained ten 10-gallon kegs of Canadian liquor valued at $40 a gallon, or $4,000 for the 100 gallons. The kegs were stacked in the rear seat. A .45 calibre revolver was also found in the driver's seat, and the numbers on the weapon were rubbed off, so that the factory cannot tell where it was distributed to a dealer.

Officers in all counties around Morristown were notified to watch for the men, and Patrolman Lakin of this city went to the scene of the accident in hopes of meeting the men, and officers watched the railroad yards during the night.

Sheriff Smith of Shelbyville took charge of the liquor and the machine was driven to Shelbyville on its own power and was not damaged. It is believed that the booze runners thought the machine was broken, or else they would have continued their trip.

MRS. NANCY COLSHER DIES

Orange Township Woman Expires
At Home Of Her Son This Morning

Mrs. Nancy Colsher, age eighty-one years died at the home of her son, Noah Colsher, in Orange township, this morning about 8:30 o'clock of a complication of diseases following a prolonged illness. Mrs. Colsher had been an invalid for seven years and had been unable to leave her home during that time.

The deceased was the daughter of Daniel and Mary Camerer, pioneer residents of Orange and Anderson townships, and was the last of a large family. Besides the one son no other close relatives survive, aside from a few nieces and nephews.

The funeral services have not been completed.

NO EXCUSE FOR INCREASE

Opinion of President Coolidge Regarding Hard Coal Prices

Washington, Sept. 18.—There is no excuse for increased coal prices as the result of the brief shutdown in underground fields, President Coolidge holds, an administration spokesman said today.

The president feels the effect of the shutdown should be evenly spread over the entire nation's output and that no increase is justified.

The federal trade commission today notified Mr. Coolidge that under his instructions it would at once begin an investigation of coal prices and make public its findings and recommendations.

Cabinet Discusses Agricultural Problems at Today's Meeting

Washington, Sept. 18.—Temporary relief measures for wheat producers will be worked out by President Coolidge and his cabinet in an effort to put that branch of agriculture on a sound economic basis, administration leaders announced at the White House today.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who conferred with President Coolidge before today's cabinet meeting, is to report Thursday or Friday details of the proposed emergency measures.

The cabinet today devoted its entire session to discussion of agriculture problems.

CUTS TO OFFSET PROPOSED RAISE

Reductions in Local Tax Levies Will Probably Keep 1924 Rates From
Being Higher

DESPITE INCREASE IN STATE

Proposal That State Tax Board Increase Levy From 27 To 33 Cents Considered

Even though the state board of tax commissioners should fix the 1924 state tax rate at 33 cents, which represents an increase of six cents over this year, it is estimated that not many taxing units in Rush county would have a much larger rate for next year than they have this year.

The county tax rate was reduced for next year from sixteen to eleven cents and the county gravel road repair tax was cut from twelve to ten cents, making a combined reduction of seven cents, which would more than offset an increase of six cents in the state tax rate.

Therefore, it is pointed out, if Rush county taxpayers are compelled to pay any more taxes next year, it will be due to increases by their own local taxing officers, such as the township advisory board and the school corporations.

If the state rate is put at 33 cents for next year, the Rushville city rate will doubtless be higher because the city council raised the city levy for next year from 70 to 80 cents. Part of this increase will be taken care of by a reduction of six cents in the gravel road bonds and interest levy in Rushville township.

Advices from Indianapolis are to the effect that an increase in the state rate, which is now 27 cents, is almost certain. The amount of the increase will depend upon the attitude of members of the state tax board, Governor McCray and State Auditor Bracken, who have to work out the problem of fixing a levy which will meet the financial requirements of the state.

Faced with the necessity of establishing tax rates which will total approximately 56 cents for the next two years, the question appears to be whether the amount will be divided between this year and next, or a marked increase made now to be followed by a sharp decrease next year.

If a 33-cent levy is established now, the rate next year will be lowered to from 22 to 23 cents, officials say. If only a nominal increase is made, the levy next year will be about the same. Governor McCray, it is said, does not favor a radical increase in the levy this year. State Auditor Bracken, a democratic official, however, is said to be insisting on a substantial increase in the levy. Mr. Bracken takes the position that the large increase must be made to take care of loans negotiated for the general fund. He believes that these loans must all be paid off during the next taxing period.

In support of this attitude, it is said that the state finance board can not make loans of this kind for more than six months.

Mr. Bracken, who, as auditor, has authority to pass on the levy fixed by the tax board, is expected to give careful scrutiny to the rate fixed before giving his approval to the matter.

In his connection the question of use of money from the general fund for maintenance of correctional institutions.

MRS. GLEN EDWARDS IS HURT

Wife of Former Rushville Man Injured in Greenfield Accident

Mrs. Glen Edwards of Greenfield was injured and the automobile in which she was riding was almost demolished when it was struck by a Pennsylvania train at a street crossing in that city Monday afternoon. Mrs. Ed Hayes, who was driving the car, and Mrs. Riley Arbuckle, who was riding in the back seat, were not injured.

The train that struck the machine was backing slowly, or all three occupants would have been killed. Mrs. Edwards got out of the machine and was dragged along and suffered cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken. She is well known here, having visited in Rushville, and Mr. Edwards was formerly a resident here and was employed by the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber company.

FIRST STEP TAKEN IN DOLLINGS PROBE

Marion County Prosecutor to Meet
Gov. McCray and Attorney General
Lesh This Afternoon

JUST STARTER, SAYS M'CRAY

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—First steps toward a criminal investigation of the affairs of the R. L. Dollings company and its subsidiaries in Indiana, were scheduled for this afternoon when William P. Evans, Marion county prosecutor was to meet with Governor McCray and Attorney General Lesh.

Several days ago Lesh made a detailed report to the governor recommending a grand jury probe of the entire Dollings company with criminal prosecution as the object.

"I do not know what I will recommend," the governor said before the conference. "I just want to talk the situation over. I am calling Lesh and Evans in just as a starter."

Lesh in a report to the governor charged that the Dollings officials could not help but know that the entire system of financing was unsound and that the longer it was permitted to develop the greater would be the crash.

Organization Working Any Way Except Under Law is Un-American—
Speaks to High School

"This is not the America of the self-appointed few, but the America of the true and the loyal to the constitution," said Thomas Davison, of Greensburg, former president of the Indiana State Bar association, speaking at the Rotary club meeting today noon, in observance of Constitution Week.

Mr. Davison also addressed the high school shortly before noon on the same subject and held the attention of the students for thirty minutes.

The Greensburg attorney was invited to speak to the high school by Douglas Morris, who is chairman of the Rush county committee that arranged for the observance of the week, under the auspices of the American Bar association.

Mr. Davison asserted, in his address before the Rotary club, that however interesting it may be to speak of the historical phases of the constitution, the most important thing is to bring to the knowledge of Americans the relation that the constitution bears to our lives, our business, and our general welfare.

Gets 47 Days in Jail For Charging "Frame-up"

It don't pay to express your private opinion in open court, and assert that the prosecutor and court have "framed" the case on you, as evidenced this morning when Justice Stech gave William Innis, Jr., of Milroy, the limit and sent him to jail for 47 days to lay out the fine and costs.

Innis was being tried on a malicious trespass case and was accused of destroying a sign on a bill board. Just as Justice Stech was getting ready to let him off with an easy fine, the defendant was asked if he had anything to say, and he said he "guess it wouldn't be any use because you had it framed on me." The court imposed the limit of $25 and costs, amounting in all to $40.00, or 47 days in jail.

NEW YORK PAPERS TIED UP

Newspaper Web Pressmen's Union
Strike Due To Wage Argument

(By United Press)
New York, Sept. 18.—New York City awoke to find its morning paper missing from the doorstep.

A strike of 2500 members of the Newspaper Web Pressmen's union, local 25, early today tied up practically every daily in the greater city. An exception was the New York Socialist.

The walkout came as the culmination of eighteen months of bitter strife over wages and working conditions. It was unexpected, however as far as the general public was concerned.

An agreement which the pressmen had submitted to early in 1921 known as the Manton award, based on a decision handed down by a New York judge of that name was the bone of contention. The pressman, for the most part, had never been satisfied with the wages and working conditions this embraced.

RENEWED THREAT OF BALKAN WAR IS SEEN

Action Of Italy In Appointing Gen.
Giardino Military Dictator Of Fiume
So Regarded

SUSPICION IS AROUSED

Paris, Sept. 18.—Renewed threat of a Balkan war was seen here today in the action of Italy appointing General Giardino as virtual military dictator of Fiume following resignation of the regent.

Dispatches from Belgrade said the Italian action had aroused intense suspicion. Jugo-Slavia was planning a blockade of Fiume from the land side as its first move against the Giardino regime. All supplies and traffic into the Fiumian state will be suspended.

Meantime Bulgaria claimed a Jugo-Slav invasion of Bulgaria is threatened.

The Bulgarian charge d'affaires, M. Morleoff, arrived last night from Geneva to seek allied intervention against the alleged threatened military action. He charged that Jugo-Slavia has mobilized four divisions on the Bulgarian frontier.

Bulgaria intends to appeal to the league, Morleoff said.

WALTON READY FOR SHOWDOWN

Additional Troops Arrive In Oklahoma City To Assist Governor
In Disbanding Klan

TROOP MOVEMENT CENSORED

Military Court Of Inquiry Established And Resumes Its Second
Day's Session

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 18.—Additional national guard troops arrived here today as Governor Jack Walton prepared for a showdown in his fight to disband the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma.

Strict censorship of troop movements was at once established by Col. W. S. Key commandant of the Oklahoma county area where Governor Walton has concentrated his attack on the "invisible empire."

Battery A, 190th Field Artillery of Enid were the first troops to arrive from outside the county. Four machine guns were unloaded with the other equipment of the guardsmen.

Governor Walton's military court of inquiry through which he expects to break the power of the K. K. K. in Oklahoma was established and scheduled to resume its sessions today. A dozen witnesses were examined during the first day of investigation.

The governor returned today from Okmulgee county where he delivered two vigorous speeches in which he repeated his determination to rule the state with bayonet and machine gun until the "invisible empire" had been driven out of existence in Oklahoma.

Okmulgee county, which was first to feel the grip of martial law last spring when Walton began his militant drive on the klan turned out in thousands to hear the governor's speeches. At Okmulgee where he spoke last night after issuing a challenge to the Klan to whip him as he claimed they had threatened, hundreds were unable to enter the crowded theatre.

A blazing white cross-blazed defiantly from the roof of the klan temple a few blocks away and the Okmulgee chapter of the "invisible empire" was reported in executive session during the governor's address.

Aside from this flaming symbol of klan protest there was no demonstration against the executive.

The governor admitted in his address that the grand jury which sought to meet here and investigate charges he misused public funds, had forced him to play his trump card and blanket the state with military rule.

"That jury was dominated by klansmen who sought to indict me," he declared. "I have established a military court of inquiry which will indict the real anarchists of this state."

While the governor planned his final offensive against the "invisible empire" officials of the klan remained silent.

"N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm," whose challenge to the governor to break the power of the klan in the state was given as one of the reasons the governor proclaimed martial law, refused to comment on Walton's latest move.

The annual Oklahoma state fair scheduled to begin here Friday was

Which Burned

(By United Press)

Petaluma, Cal., Sept. 18.—Cottages summer homes and resorts in Sonoma county to an estimated number of 200 were destroyed during the night by forest fires. The fire was the most disastrous in northern California in years.

Napa, California, Sept. 18.—The popular Johannsburg resort near Napa was burned during the night by a forest fire, which swept from the upper Napa valley across the ridges into the Sonoma valley. A dwelling house was the only building of the Johannsburg resort that was saved.

Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 18.—Members of the reserve officers training camp, connection with the University of California, today patrolled the ruins of fifty blocks of the residential section of classic Berkeley—"cultural center" of the Pacific coast.

The student soldiers, all armed were guarding against looting which was reported to have been attempted in one or two instances before daylight.

Four shots at alleged looters were fired, according to reports at headquarters but one was injured.

The burned area was placed under what amounted to martial law this morning.

Reserve corps detachments formed lines around the ruins, and all persons who could prove they had homes in the burned districts were allowed ten minutes each inside the lines to visit the ruins in search of anything of value. No one else was passed through the lines.

Police said they had what appeared to be well authenticated stories of four persons having been killed in the fire but they could not confirm these reports in any way.

Fire which was burning in the Berkeley Hills swept the residential district and a summary of the damage today showed:

Fifty blocks of the finest residential section destroyed.

Five hundred homes destroyed, at least half of them worth more than $10,000.

Seventeen fraternity and sorority houses connected with the University of California burned.

(It was in one of these that three students were at first reported to have lost their lives, a report as yet unconfirmed.)

Property damage amounting to $5,000,000.

Five thousand homeless.

Paintings, antiques, curios and libraries of inestimable value destroyed.

Practically nothing saved you from 75 per cent of the buildings burned. The region swept by fire was about three quarters of a mile wide along the north side of the university of California campus. It was some times referred to as the "cultural center" of the Pacific coast.

COUPE STRIKES A POLE

Frank Cross Steers Car Into Pole to
Avoid a Smash-up

A Ford coupe owned and driven by Frank Cross of north of the city, was badly damaged about eleven o'clock this morning at the corner of Eighth and Main streets, when it struck a large telephone pole, in order to avoid hitting another machine.

Mr. Cross was going north on Main street, and a Ford sedan driven by a traveling salesman was attempting to enter Main street from the west, and in order to prevent a serious smash-up, Mr. Cross swung his machine around and struck the pole. The two front wheels, the springs and axle on the front, a front light and a fender, all were completely torn from the machine. No one was injured.

LITTER OF TEN BREAKS RECORD

Pigs Average 297 Pounds When Officially Weighed at Mt. Orch, Ohio Recently

1922 CHAMPION IN INDIANA

Ohio Winner Exceeds Hoosier Record 21 Pounds Per Hog But Not in Total Weight

A litter of ten pigs broke the world's record for ton litters by making an average weight of 297 pounds when officially weighed at the G. L. Evans farm, Mt. Orch, Ohio, August 29, the 180th day. The record was held by a 1922 Indiana Poland China litter of eleven pigs, which averaged 276 pounds on the 180th day. The Ohio litter exceeded the former champions by 21 pounds per head, though not in total weight of litter.

The sire of the litter was sired by Cicotte, the world's champion Poland China boar of 1921, and the dam of the litter's sire was by The Rainbow, grand champion boar of the 1920 Iowa State Fair.

The litter was the seventh farrowed by the dam. She raised 66 of 71 pigs farrowed in the seven litters.

and farrowed a litter of nine eight days before this ton litter were officially weighed.

This unprecedented growth was made largely on a wheat ration. During the period from weaning to four months the ration was two parts ground wheat, two parts ground oats one part ground corn. During the last two months the ration was two parts ground wheat and one part ground corn, fed as slop mixed one feed ahead.

The litter was farrowed March 2, 1923, and were officially weighed August 29, being three days less than six calendar months of age, but rules call for weighing on the 180th day. The weights and gains were as follows:

Age Days	Weight	Gain per head per day to date
92	910	0.99
120	1,430	1.19
150	2,165	1.44
180	2,970	1.65

During the period from 92 to 120 days they gained 1.86 pounds per head per day, from 120 to 150 days 2.45 pounds and during the last thirty days they gained 2.68 pounds per head per day.

Farmers Must Reduce Costs

Since the market price of farm products is too low to afford the farmer a profit, and as there is no indication of an advance it appears that it is up to the farmer to reduce his cost of production if he is to make a profit. He can do this by more efficient media. If a scrub litter of pigs go to market at six months weighing 1,500 pounds while a pure bred litter goes to market at the same age weighing twice that amount it is quite evident that he has produced the latter with less labor, investment and feed per cwt. than the former. An Ohio farmer marketed a litter of ten pigs September 1 which weighed 2,970 pounds.

White Snakeroot, Poison Plant Fatal To Live Stock Is Found In all Parts of Indiana

WHITE SNAKE ROOT GROWS TYPICALLY IN WOODLAND PASTURES

White snakeroot, the cause of trembles, a fatal disease of sheep, cattle and horses, and the plant that poisons milk and causes a human disease known as milk sickness, is common in woodland pastures in all parts of Indiana. The accompanying photograph shows it to good advantage.

Both trembles and milk sickness was much more prevalent in former years than now, since the plant does not persist after the land has been cleared and cultivated. Nevertheless it has been clearly demonstrated by Purdue University workers that considerable amount of forage poisoning in Indiana is due to this plant and numerous cases of milk sickness in the state occur from time to time. Entire townships have been found in which both milk sickness and trembles is prevalent every year. The poisonous properties of white snakeroot have been demonstrated by experiments conducted at the Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station. The fact that white snakeroot is the cause of trembles and milk sickness is a comparatively recent discovery.

According to A. A. Hansen of the Agricultural Extension Department the typical symptoms of white snakeroot poisoning in sheep and cattle are spasms of severe trembling, which are especially noticeable when the poisoned animals are driven. Ordinarily a quantity of snakeroot equal to about ten per cent of the weight of the animal is necessary before the results are fatal, but the poison may accumulate in the system during a period of several weeks. The disease usually becomes apparent after the first of July.

The typical symptoms of milk sickness in the human are severe intestinal paralysis accompanied by vomiting, foul breath and occasional delirium without rise in temperature. Many early pioneers including the mother of Abraham Lincoln, died as a result of contracting milk sickness from snakeroot-poisoned milk, although the cause of the trouble was then unknown.

The most practicable way to destroy white snakeroot is by hand pulling during September and October, when the bright flower clusters are conspicuous. Mowing is of little value since the roots will sprout even after close cutting. Fortunately the roots are shallow and plants are not difficult to pull.

White snakeroot has a number of harmless relatives that so closely resemble the poisonous plant that identification is frequently difficult. All farmers who have lost stock in woodland pastures from plant poisoning should examine the land for white snakeroot. In case of doubt, send specimens for identification to the Division of Botany, Purdue University Agricultural Experiment Station, Lafayette, Indiana.

WALTON READY FOR A SHOWDOWN

called off by the governor who said it might interfere with military operations.

Police powers of the city were returned to civil authorities but this was not regarded as a weakening of Walton's determination to continue rule of the mailed fist until the Klan had been overthrown.

Ultimatum of Mayor Cargill that the expense of maintaining the police force would be saddled on the state if the civil officers were made answerable to the military, was said to be the real reason for reinvesting the regular authorities with the police power. Colonel Key announced that police officers were still subject to command of the military. Arrival of extra troops indicates the governor plans to finish his fight. Arrangements are under way, it was learned, to raise additional funds to carry on an extended campaign. These plans were withheld but it is understood the money will be borrowed if possible from eastern sources. Expenses of maintaining the present troops is rapidly consuming the balance of the $200,000 appropriation of the last legislature for special investigation of lawlessness.

Wheat Surplus Being Used As Feed For Livestock

Brazil, Ind., Sept. 17.—Between 15,000 and 25,000 bushels of wheat have been fed by farmers of Clay county to their livestock since July 1, according to an estimate made today by the Clay county farm bureau.

Some farmers have already fed as high as 300 and 400 bushels, a survey showed. Farmers expect to continue feeding their wheat unless there is a considerable increase in prices during the next two or three months. Most of the wheat fed has been of the best quality.

From the survey farm bureau officials estimate that taking Clay county as an average county, between 60,000,000 and 80,000,000 bushels have been fed to stock over the country, and that the surplus of 200,000,000 bushels reported by the government in August will have vanished by spring.

Mr. Davison declared that a million and a half people in this country are working to bring about the downfall of the government and that more than 500 publications are devoted to that cause. He referred to the Third Internationale that is endeavoring to bring about the rule of the Moscow government in this country. "Already danger signals are flying in the air," the speaker continued, "and the cry of all liberty-loving people should be back to the constitution."

"All efforts to redress wrongs except by due process of law are un-Christian and un-American."

Mr. Davison mentioned the three branches of government—executive, legislative and judicial, and explained their functions, which are set forth in the constitution, that has been in successful operation for 134 years.

"While it took only four months for framers to present the constitution," the speaker pointed out, "you must know that its beginning extends back for several centuries."

Mr. Davison then outlined the development of the movement that eventually led to the constitution, referring to the first concession made by King Henry the Fourth of England in 1100 and the granting of the Magna Charter by King John in the next century. He alluded to the fact that the great charter of English liberty would never have been granted had it not been for the influence of the business men and the merchants of London.

This calls to mind, he said, that merchants, business men and men of finance have ever been liberty-loving people and have always used their influence in that direction.

"Thereafter, 37 times," the speaker continued, "the people called on their kings to reaffirm their rights. The Magna Charter first established the fact that life and property shall not be taken without due process of law."

The constitution was duly adopted September 17, 1787, he said, "and it is by virtue of the laws and by virtue of the courts that we have existed."

The constitution delegates powers to the people's representatives, he pointed out, and the supreme court is the sentinel that seems none of the people's representatives violates such powers.

"Let us obey the law because it is the law," was his closing appeal, "and work, if we think it unjust, for its amendment or repeal in an orderly manner prescribed by the constitution."

"What the dykes are to Holland, the American constitution is to the citizens of the United States, and as in Holland, they watch the dykes to safeguard their country, so its our duty to watch the constitution and see that it is not violated."

Douglas Morris and three members of the high school faculty—John M. Swain, Dean E. Walker and L. E. Adams were guests.

William Z. Foster Arrested For
Spreading Un-American Ideals

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18.—William Z. Foster, labor leader was freed in city court today when arraigned on charges of "seditious utterances." Judge M. J. Kilroy held that as long as Foster had rented a hall and paid for it, with his own money, he was entitled to say what he pleased as long as it didn't result in a disturbance of the peace.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18.—William Z. Foster, arrested here last night after appealing to an audience in Carpenter's Hall for funds to help pay attorneys in his trial for alleged sedition at Bridgeport, Mich., was released early today on $1,000 bail. John Michellie, who was secretary of the meeting, was also held under arrest and under $1,000 bail with Foster.

Although no formal charge was placed against the two men, police said they were arrested because Foster was spreading ideas which sounded un-American to them. Foster was ordered to appear today before Chief of Police Vassar.

About 300 heard Foster's speech on "my trial in Michigan for communism." A total of $63 was subscribed for his defense fund before he was arrested.

TO END WAR BETWEEN

"BEER SYNDICATES"

Chicago Police to Close Saloons And
Round up Beer Runners And
Gangsters

SECOND OUTBREAK OF FEUD

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Roundup of all known beer runners and gangsters, closing of every "saloon, soft drink parlor, and coffee shop" and a definite search for three men believed guilty of murder were steps taken by Chicago police and detectives today in a campaign to end violent warfare between rival "beer syndicates."

Two men—"George" Meeghan, and "Spot" Bucher—were shot and instantly killed last night while driving their automobile through a heavy traffic jam. The shots came from another automobile which sped away before police reached the scene.

The shooting, which marked the second outbreak of a feud which police believe exists between rival gangsters and beer runners, was followed by immediate orders from Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins and Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes to round up all known gangsters and beer runners.

Mayor William Dever took a hand in the campaign to end the war when he appeared at his office early today and ordered a conference for all police and detective department officials in which he was prepared to ask that all "saloons, soft drink parlors and coffee shops" be closed.

Police said they expected another gang shooting but were surprised at the shooting of the two men last night. Meeghan and Bucher were alleged members of the "O'Connor gang", one of whose members was shot to death Sunday. They expected a member of the rival "Torrio" gang would be killed in revenge.

JUST AND RIGHT:—A God of truth and without iniquity just and right is He.—Deuteronomy 32: 4.

Constitution Week

President Coolidge said that to live under the American constitution is the greatest political privilege that was ever accorded to the human race, but far too many people do not appreciate that fact.

Perhaps it is well that our thoughts are turned this week to the glorious work of our forefathers, who wrote for us the greatest document defining human rights that was ever constructed from the mind of man.

Though we may at times seem to be straying far from the path laid down 136 years ago to guide us through rough seas, America is far from coming to disaster. There may be occasion, now and then, to view the future gloomily, to fear that elements are at work which may undermine the foundation upon which the greatest republic in the world rests, but Americans value their heritage to highly to permit it to slip from their grasp without a struggle.

We saw men rise to the emergency in 1917, when autocracy threatened our democratic standards of government. We will see men come forward again when our land and its ideals are threatened. We have reason to be alarmed, not infrequently, at the danger from within, at the apparent intolerance, and disregard for law, that is abroad, but all true Americans have faith in the inherent trait of the people to sense danger and to right themselves and repel the forces that seek to destroy that which is dearest to loyal Americans.

The majority still rules, but the minority is amply protected by a sacered document that will all honor and respect, not along this week, but for all the weeks to come. May we give evidence of our respect by observing the law, being tolerant in our views and charitable in our acts.

Coolidge Served Whole Nation

When Samuel Gompers started in to unionize police, firemen and school teachers of Boston he heard from Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts.

The proposition to throw public servants wholesale into the ranks of organized labor Coolidge declared was fraught with public danger.

With Boston municipal employees once unionized, the other cities of Our Country would have followed suit in one, two, three order.

The demoralization of organized labor would have followed as a result of injecting the professional politicians and white collar classes into the unions.

If the scheme proved practical it would have amounted to a political dictatorship, confiscatory in its raids on the tax payers.

Coolidge showed a courage not common among statesmen. He called the halt. Speaking for the farmers and smaller property owners he asserted the principle of no divided allegiances in the public service.

Police, firemen and public school teachers could not take orders from President Gompers and the A. F. of L. and also remain loyal to the public service.

CONFERENCE MAY NEVER BE HELD

Two Out of Three Foreign Countries
Shy Away From Proposals on
Second Disarmament Session

JAPAN WILLING TO COME

Great Britain and France Appear
Unwilling to Finish The Work
Done at First Conference

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)

Washington, Sept. 18.—Feel-ers have been put out by the United States to three foreign governments to learn their attitude towards a second disarmament conference.

Two of the three have shied away from the proposal. The third is willing to attend another conference.

Great Britain, France and Japan have been approached on the subject.
The feelers have been put out unofficially, and not as direct diplomatic inquiries from this government to the others.

The purpose of the second conference, as outlined in the unofficial sounding out process, was to supplement and complete the work of the first parley, held in Washington two years ago. Further consideration of Pacific questions and another effort to get somewhere on submarine and aircraft limitation were included in the unofficial suggestions.

Great Britain's attitude as reflected in replies to the preliminary suggestion is hesitant. The British seemed to have the idea that such a conference might embarrass British plans for creating one of the world's greatest naval bases at Singapore, a project the announcement of which caused a stir some months ago.

France also showed little enthusiasm for a second conference, her attitude being that some effort might be made at such a conference to obtain leverage by which to coerce her in the reparations question.

Japan's attitude expressed willingness to entertain an invitation from this government for another conference.

President Harding intended, had he lived, to summon a second conference to carry on the work of the first and to develop his association of nations idea.

What Is An
"Independent?"

THE dictionary says.—An independent is one who exercises his own will or judgment without the guidance or control of others—whether in thought or some sphere of action.

In discussing the petroleum industry, the press and the public use the term "independents" to designate the competitors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The definition quoted exactly fits the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as it neither owes nor acknowledges allegiance to any man or organization.

This clearly defines the Standard Oil Company
(Indiana) as an "independent."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is owned by 41,922 stockholders—not one of whom owns as much as 6% of the total stock.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is managed by a Board of Directors of ten men—every one of whom started in a comparatively humble capacity and earned his place on the Board by sheer ability. These men devote their entire time to the business of this Company.

While the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) neither owes nor acknowledges allegiance to any man or organization, it is proud to acknowledge its obligation—

First—to its stockholders who have invested their capital in the enterprise.

Second—to 27,000 loyal, earnest, hard-working employees, 10,000 of whom also are stockholders.

Third—to the 30,000,000 people in the ten Middle Western states who have come to look upon this Company as a leader in a highly specialized branch of essential industry.

Fourth—to those of our competitors who, with the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are striving to make the oil business useful to all the people.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) tries earnestly at all times to discharge its obligation to these four groups in such a highly satisfactory manner as to reflect credit not only upon itself but upon the industry as a whole.

DEMPSEY'S FOULS ONLY MINOR ONES

Firpo's Handlers Charge Their Man Lost Because He Adhered to Rules And Champion Didn't

FEW SMALL INFRACTIONS

South American Really Knocked Out in First Round But Got Back Due to Misunderstanding

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 18—Much is being made over the number and variety of fouls that the admirers of Luis Angel Firpo allege Jack Dempsey committed against him when the champion was waging his terrific battle Friday night to retain his crown.

Firpo's handlers charge that their man failed to win the championship because he adhered to the rules and the champion did not and Horacio Lavelle, the trainer of the South American, went so far as to state that the referee was supporting Dempsey with more than his heart.

Dempsey did commit a few minor infractions of the rules, it is true, but they were not serious enough to make him liable for disqualification, and when he did transgress the rules it was done at a time when it was obvious that the champion was groggy and did not know exactly what he was doing.

Firpo might have suffered a little when Dempsey hit him once before he was entirely erect after a knock-down, once when the champion punched him after the bell and again when Jack was helped back into the ring after he had been knocked through the ropes into the press box.

The South American, however, got the best break of the evening when he was given a count of more than 12 early in the first round. He was really knocked out soon after the fight opened and was on the floor when both the referee and the time keeper reached the count of ten.

In the excitement the referee thought it was the duty of the counting time keeper to declare the "out" and the timekeeper thought the referee should do it. They both hesitated and Firpo got to his feet and continued to fight.

This happened before Dempsey had committed any fouls.

Wm. Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission, says that Dempsey could have been disqualified for being assisted back into the ring. The champion, however, was not given too much assistance. He was given a little shove by a newspaperman who was actuated more by the motive to get 192 pounds off him than by the desire to help Dempsey back into the ring and save the championship.

Dempsey fell in such a position that he had little difficulty in squirming around and pulling himself back into the ring without help. Anyone who sat in the narrow seats in the press box would know that no one man or two men could get leverage enough to push close to 200 pounds up over their heads and into the ring.

The Score Board

George Kelly hit three homers in three straight trips to the plate and helped the Giants win from the Cubs 13 to 6.

Joe Bush was hit hard and timely and the Yankees failed to cinch the pennant when they were downed by the Indians 6 to 2.

Rube Marquard stopped the Pirates while the Braves were pounding two pitchers and Boston won, 6-1.

Four runs scored on a rally in the fifth inning gave the Cards a 6 to 5 win from the Phils.

Walter Johnson pitched the Senators to a double victory over the Browns at 5-4 and 12-2.

Behind the good pitching of Taylor and Heimach, the Athletics beat the Tigers in a double header at 2-0 and 4-3.

After dropping the first game 6-1, the Red Sox copped the second from the White Sox at 6 to 5.

NINE VETERANS BACK

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 18—With nine veterans of last year's squad in uniform and 13 of the substitute string available, Notre Dame's football team settled down to regular practice today. Nearly one hundred candidates turned out in response to Coach Rockne's call.

New Haven, Conn.—Eighteen veterans were among the fifty players who reported with the Yale football squad to Coach Tad Jones. The small squad is due to the ruling which disqualified practically the entire sophomore class.

FIRPO'S MOMENT OF GLORY

This is the punch that rocked Dempsey's whole body. It was a nasty rap that Firpo landed early in the first round. Through the ropes and onto the shoulders of "Kid" McPartland, one of the judges at the ringside, went Jack. Looked for a minute like it would be a knockout. But the champion was on his feet in a hurry.

U. S. Supreme in Tennis World

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 18—In no other international sport, with the possible exception of the Olympic games, has the United States established the prestige and superiority that it has in tennis.

American golfers have had only ordinary success in international play and as a golf nation the United States is much younger than it is on the court.

Polo, another of the more polite sports, has brought mixed success to American teams and, although the international cup is held at present in this country, the supremacy of this country is not so pronounced, as England had to start all over after the ravages of the war.

The United States has yet to be defeated in the Olympic games, mostly because this country has such a big start and has such an immense field to draw from. With the development of track and field sports in the smaller European nations, the prestige of the United States is threatened and will be actually endangered at the Paris games next Summer.

European nations still hold almost complete sway in fencing, and American fencers have not been consistently successful in the big international regattas.

Professional boxing, in which the United States is almost supreme, is not considered because the game as it is promoted and managed in the United States offers little to boast about in clean sportsmanship.

During the regime of the late Wilding, Brooks and Patterson, Australia was about as safe in the possession of the cup as the United States is now with Tilden and Johnston holding places as the two best players in the world.

Australia is developing some good young players, but it takes years and the outlay of a great sum of money to train a young player for Davis Cup play.

James O. Anderson, the Australian team captain, was the only one who stood out this year as a player capable of extending either Tilden or Johnston, and no nation can hope to win the cup with only one player.

As tennis goes, Tilden and Johnston are still young players, and they should have several years ahead of them before they start to slip.

As long as they remain on their game they should be able to defend the cup successfully, as there are no outstanding young players in quantity being developed by rival nations.

AIRMAIL PILOTS IN RACES

To Compete in 300 Kilometer Event For Mail Flyers At St. Louis

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18.—Eight or ten pilots of the Government airmail, with their planes, will be sent to the international air races at St. Louis held here to compete in the special 300 kilometer race for mail flyers Oct. 3. The Post Office Department has notified the Aid Board.

Several of the flyers who participated in the successful transcontinental flights will be included. The race is six times around the 50-kilometer triangular course, a total of 186 miles. Prizes consist of the Detroit News air mail trophy and $1,500 in cash.

Speed nearly as fast as that of the 200-kilometer Pulitzer world's speed trophy race the same day is expected to be attained.

60 FOOTBALL MEN OUT

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 18—Sixty candidates are out in football togs for daily practice and several others are expected to report before the week is over. Coaches Ingram and Gardner are giving the men preliminary work in punting, simple formations and chalk talk. Forty yearlings have reported for the freshman squad.

ELITE OF NATION'S AMATEURS IN FIELD

By EDWARD C. DERE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Flossmoor Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 18.—Thirty-two golfers—the elite of the nation's amateur lists—took the field in the first round of match play for the national amateur golf championship here today.

A cold, drizzling rain fell over the course an hour before Jesse Guillas, were scheduled to tee off. The rain, accompanied by a fog, only added to the hazards which the players encountered on the long and difficult Flossmoor course.

Drawings for the first round of match play put three former champions and the present title holder in the first bracket, while two former champions and the present open champion were lined up in the second.

Today's pairings:

First bracket—Jesse Guilford and Louis Jacoby; Harold Weber and Dexter Cummings; S. D. Herron and Robert Martin; Jesse Sweetzer and Albert Zeckel; D. Shute and Eddie Held; Art Sweet and E. P. Allis; T. J. Fryany and W. C. Fownes, Jr.; R. A. Gardner and Rudolph Knepfer.

Second bracket—M. Marston and J. M. Simpson; T. B. Cochrane and Robert Jones; J. M. Wells and C. F. Wells; H. K. B. Davis and George Blossom; Chick Evans and Willie Haines; James Manion and Francis Blossom; Chick Evans and Willie Hunter; George VonElm and Captain E. F. Carter.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church with Mrs. George Green in charge.

Mrs. Charles Brown entertained Monday evening at her home in West Fourth street with two tables of bridge. Following the card games the ladies were served with delicious refreshments.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I sure am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Elanor, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist church will hold a called meeting Wednesday afternoon at the church. All the ladies are urged to attend this meeting as business of importance will be transacted at this meeting.

The Royal Garden Entertainers will furnish a program of dance music at the first dance of the fall season to be given at the Elks Club rooms Thursday evening. Many out of town guests as well as local guests are expected to attend this dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosburg entertained Sunday at their home south of the city with a dinner party, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mosburg and sons Wilbur and Vern, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley York and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Timmerman of Glenwood.

The picnic for the Industrial Club, which was to have been held Wednesday at Memorial park, has been postponed and the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edith Gohring in North Arthur street instead. All members are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Lucy Meredith entertained with a prettily appointed three course dinner party Monday evening at her home in North Morgan street. Covers were laid for Mrs. Jesse Slaughter of Denver, Colorado, Miss Mae Meredith and the Rev. and Mrs. Gibson Wilson and family.

The following sorority pledges have been announced by DePauw University, including local girls: Miss June Lightfoot has been pledged to Alpha Chi Omega, and Miss Rowena Kennedy to Delta Delta Delta. Both Miss Lightfoot and Miss Kennedy are graduates of the local high school.

The War Mothers will hold their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the court house.

Honoring the seventy sixth birthday anniversary of William Moore, of Carthage, fifty six children, grand children and great grandchildren enjoyed an all day outing at Hills Grove, northwest of Carthage Sunday. At the noon hour a delicious picnic dinner was served and the afternoon was enjoyed with horse-shoe and football.

The East Central Associational meeting of the B. Y. P. U. will be held at the Richmond Baptist church Thursday evening of this week. The meeting will be a rally and also an organization meeting, as the association has just been recently formed and no organization made. Three counties, Wayne, Fayette and Rush, compose the association and a large delegation from the local chapter of the B. Y. P. U. is expected to attend this meeting. At 6:30 o'clock supper will be served followed by the regular meeting.

"Values of a Novel" was the subject discussed at the first meeting of the new year of the Komentri Club, which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Osborne in West Fifth street. The subject, as a whole, was discussed in a very interesting manner by Mrs. Kate Allen, and sub-topics were given by Mrs. Russell Jordan, Mrs. Ben Sparks, Miss Mary Junken and Mrs. Earl Osborne. Mrs. Margery Knecht gave "The Life of a Daniel DeFoe." A short business meeting was held following the program, and a social hour closed the afternoon's entertainment during which the hostess served delicious refreshments to her guests.

The fire was controlled last night since when all efforts have been directed towards relief work.

The Y. M. C. A., student organizations and the Red Cross combined in the work of relieving the homeless. A registry of refugees at 2 a. m., today showed thirty persons still unaccounted for, but not listed as missing.

Six Students who had been confined in the university infirmary were badly injured. Scores were treated for minor injuries, so many that no count was kept.

Houses of Berkley were thrown open to parties of refugees today, while hundreds slept in university buildings.

Approximately 1,000 college girls, wearing kitchen aprons begrimed with smoke, assisted the Red Cross this morning while 500 others donned knickers and went out to fight brush fires that were the cause of the conflagration and that still burned ominously near.

Berkley presented a remarkable picture this morning. The fire had burned so fiercely, developing such intense heat, that hardly could the frames of the destroyed homes be distinguished. Some of the homeless who remained in the zone had difficulty in picking out their late domiciles.

The devastated district was practically levelled. Each building glowed like the remains of a bonfire.

Men, women, girls and boys, with soot-blackened faces, moved about among the debris in the dawn.

The fire fighters who stood off the brush fires up until midnight after the disaster to the residential district had occurred were called in, all but about one thousand left on guard.

All during yesterday fire departments of the east bay cities had been answering calls to hundreds of fires. The Oakland fire department answered fifty calls in 45 minutes.

One of these, whipped by the strong gale blowing, got beyond control of the thousands who helped fight it and was subdued only by the use of dynamite. Students of the University rallied to prevent destruction of their campus.

When the flames were finally brought under control after dark, it was estimated that nearly one thousand buildings, mostly homes, had been destroyed, making the fire the greatest disaster to visit San Francisco bay region since the earthquake and fire of 1906. Fifty square blocks were razed, leaving only smoke blackened chimneys to show where houses used to stand. Fire hazard has not yet been

Endurance Contest Driver Goes Through Here At 11 A. M.

"Daredevil" Lockwood, who is driving an automobile in an endurance contest on a wager of $2,000 was still going this morning at eleven o'clock when he passed through Rushville. Lockwood has been driving since last Friday noon, when he left the Circle in Indianapolis, and he hopes to continue until 12:30 p. m. Wednesday in order to break his own record for continuous driving. Lockwood did not show the strain of the ordeal when he went through here and appeared as fresh as he did the first day. The car is without a top, but a makeshift affair to keep out the rain has been erected over the front seat. Lockwood is accompanied by a trained nurse.

He was delayed for a short time at Anderson Monday when he ran into another car, which apparently was trying to stop him, but the radiator of the Maxwell was damaged, and was repaired while Lockwood kept his car in motion.

Greensburg—Earl F. Himes, 33, fourteen years, will enter the Cincinnati Bible institute to prepare for the ministry.

"The Grub-Stake," Mystic

Few pictures are destined to make a wider appeal than "The Grub-Stake," in which Nell Shipman stars at the Mystic Theatre again today. This remarkable girl noted for her pictures of the great outdoors, not only plays the leading role in the new picture, but wrote the story and, with Bert Van Tuyle, directed it. It is truly a Nell Shipman production.

The story is an intensely interesting one and derives its title from the term first used during the gold rush to the Klondike in 1898—"Grub-stake me, partner, and I'll bring home the bacon!" Give me a grub-stake, mister, and I'll make you rich." This appeal was made by prospectors anxious to seek their fortunes, but without the money necessary to outfit and provision themselves, and as obtaining a grub-stake meant the sharing of what treasure might be found, there were many gamblers eager to "grub-stake" those who were down but not out.

girl who makes the appeal to a man—a girl struggling against adverse circumstances in Seattle, who wishes to go to Alaska in order to make a fresh start. Without realizing, in the simplicity of her heart, the nature of the man she is dealing with she obtains her grub-stake and pays for it a price more bitter than she thought possible. It is from this incident that the story progresses through surprise, heartbreak, courage, thrilling adventures and unbelievable hardship to a conclusion as sweet as the air of the forests the heroine has learned to love.

"Fury" At Princess

Richard Barthelmess in "Fury," a rollicking, stirring drama of the deep sea from the facile pen of Edmund Goulding, will be the first National piece of resistance at the Princess again today.

This production is heralded as an even more ambitious dramatic effort than any other of Barthelmess' highly popular screen successes, including either "Tolable David" or "The Bond Boy."

A very large portion of the picture was taken at sea in a picturesque old four-masted sailing schooner, for Barthelmess plays the role of a cowed young second mate whose spirit is not thoroughly aroused until his father, the captain, throws discredit on the name of the girl the boy intended to marry.

Then, later on, learning from the lips of his dying father the name of the man who had wronged his mother, his whole nature changes and he swears vengeance. Which leads to gripping denouement and the culmination of a romance.

Dorothy Gish is Barthelmess' leading lady, portraying the role of Minnie, the little London boarding house slaver with whom the bashful young mate falls in love. Tyrone Power, famous on stage and screen has the part of Captain Leyton. Others in important roles are Barry Macollum, Pat Hartigan and Jessie Arnold.

"Fury" was directed by Henry King, who also directed the preceding Barthelmess success of the past year.

ITALY STARTS EVACUATION

Advices From Cerfu Say That The Troops Are Leaving Island

Athens, Sept. 17.—Evacuation of Corfu by Italian forces began today.

Advices from the disputed island which was seized by Italy as a punitive measure following the assassination at Janina say that two transports carried away all the aerial equipment that had been shipped to Corfu. Two aerodromes which had been established are being dismantled.

Censorship is being maintained by the Italian military commander at Corfu.

HARD FLOORS DANGEROUS

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 18.—Express companies should not ship valuable horses in cars equipped with hardwood floors. So says John A. Schuster in filing complaint for $600 against the American Express company. He charged that three horses, valued at $1,050, were killed in transit when they slipped on the slick floor and were trampled by other horses.

Unfit Gas!
—It Hacks at Every Angle of Motor Efficiency

Poor motor fuel doesn't stop with just being poor. In fact, its uncomfortable running and outward signs of general debility are in themselves about the least of its drawbacks. The mischief really comes inside the motor, where it gets in its hidden devastation at practically every vital point of engine performance.

Poor fuel, forced from unfit kerosenish elements, has the edge taken off its explosiveness long before it enters your motor. It burns slowly and brokenly. Its overloads of carbon clog valve action and lower the compression. Its kerosene sluices the oil from pistons and rings, and constantly menaces the bearings through steady dilution of the lubricating oil in the base.

Silver Flash Gasoline

Users pay a few cents more per gallon, ostensibly for the luxury of easy starting and comfortable running. But these virtues could not exist without the deeper qualities—less noticeable but more important.

They are really paying more for freedom from kerosene—spoiled oil and carbon—choked valves, for sound, clean, thorough explosiveness that does not hack and batter at the motor's very life.

It is the genuine straight-run gasoline of long ago—and every explosion is a witness of its fitness.
